The trade mark is an animation mark substantially as contained: in the electronic (digital) file of the motion mark accompanying this application, in the representations of the still images (extracted from the motion mark) affixed to the application, and as defined in this endorsement. The movement of the mark is described as follows: In frames 1 to 8, the animated red polygon emanates sideways from a central white circle containing a red speech mark. In frames 9 to 18, the red polygon rotates once clockwise around the central circle. In frames 19 to 25, the red polygon shuts from top to bottom. In frames 26 to 30, the red polygon reopens from top to bottom. The black and white backgrounds shown in the animation do not form part of the mark and may contain material of descriptive or non distinctive character, by a trade mark registered in the name of the applicant, or by a registered trade mark of which the applicant is a permitted user thereof. The mark is in the colours appearing in the representation in the TM1 Form and as contained in the electronic file, accompanying this application. The movement of the polygon around a central circle is an essential and distinctive feature of the mark and the speech mark contained inside the central circle is not a feature of the mark.

 The trade mark is an animation mark substantially as contained: in the electronic (digital) file of the motion mark accompanying this application, in the representations of the still images (extracted from the motion mark) affixed to the application, and as defined in this endorsement. The movement of the mark is described as follows: In frames 1 to 8, the animated red polygon emanates sideways from a central white circle containing a red speech mark. In frames 9 to 18, the red polygon rotates once clockwise around the central circle. In frames 19 to 25, the red polygon shuts from top to bottom. In frames 26 to 30, the red polygon reopens from top to bottom. The black and white backgrounds shown in the animation do not form part of the mark and may contain material of descriptive or non distinctive character, by a trade mark registered in the name of the applicant, or by a registered trade mark of which the applicant is a permitted user thereof. The mark is in the colours appearing in the representation in the TM1 Form and as contained in the electronic file, accompanying this application. The movement of the polygon around a central circle is an essential and distinctive feature of the mark and the speech mark contained inside the central circle is not a feature of the mark.

 The trade mark is an animation mark substantially as contained: in the electronic (digital) file of the motion mark accompanying this application, in the representations of the still images (extracted from the motion mark) affixed to the application, and as defined in this endorsement. The movement of the mark is described as follows: In frames 1 to 8, the animated red polygon emanates sideways from a central white circle containing a red speech mark. In frames 9 to 18, the red polygon rotates once clockwise around the central circle. In frames 19 to 25, the red polygon shuts from top to bottom. In frames 26 to 30, the red polygon reopens from top to bottom. The black and white backgrounds shown in the animation do not form part of the mark and may contain material of descriptive or non distinctive character, by a trade mark registered in the name of the applicant, or by a registered trade mark of which the applicant is a permitted user thereof. The mark is in the colours appearing in the representation in the TM1 Form and as contained in the electronic file, accompanying this application. The movement of the polygon around a central circle is an essential and distinctive feature of the the mark and the speech mark contained inside the central circle is not a feature of the mark.
